Bibliography

Primary Sources

Afro-American blues and Game songs. Library of Congress, Recording Laboratory, compact disk 1513.

Afro-American spirituals, work songs, and ballads. Library of Congress, Recording Laboratory, sound disc AFS L3.

“American Rhetoric.” n.d.

Guy and Candie Carawan Collection (1959-1965), Southern Folklife Collection, University of North Carolina.

The Crisis (1910-), New York, NY.

Dylan, Bob, Highway 61 Revisited [sound recording], Columbia Records, 1CH90321.

The Echo. [newspaper] Huntsville, TX (1928-1968).

Freedom: a concert in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Golden Gate Quartet. Bridge compact disk 9114.

Cap'n You're So Mean [sound recording]. Lawrence Gellert. Rounder Records.

Lawrence Gellert Papers (1927-1978), Lilly Library, Indiana University.

Gellert, Lawrence. [United States, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Afro-Americans, 1920-1940] [sound recording]. Archives of Traditional Music, Indiana University.

Let it shine on me. Leadbelly. Rounder Records.

Library of Congress. Seventy Five Years of Freedom [concert program]. Dec. 18, 1940.

Negro work songs and calls. Rounder Select.

New Masses (1926-1948). Chattanooga, TN.

Prison Songs (Historical Recordings From Parchman Farm 1947-48). Rounder Select, 2 compact discs. 1714-1715.

Southern Worker (1930-1937). Birmingham, AL.

Texas State Convict Records.

That's why we're marching. Woody Guthrie. Smithsonian/Folkways compact disc SF CD 40021.

When the sun goes down: take this hammer. Leadbelly. Bluebird compact disc #82876-50957-2.
White, Josh, Josh at Midnight [sound recording]. Elektra record 12 in. EKL-102.
White, Josh, Josh White songs [sound recording]. New York 12 in. 48933773.
White, Josh, The Story of John Henry and Ballads, Blues and Other Songs [sound recording], Elektra.
Young Worker (1922-1936). Chicago, IL.
Secondary Sources

Cantwell, Robert. When we were good: the folk revival. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 1996.

