

For the text book, you have at least these options.

(1) Purchase WebAssign access directly for $70 which will give you access to the online weekly quizzes AND the e-book (which you can print if you feel the need to do so).

(2) Order the book WITH WebAssign directly from the publisher: ISBN 9781284021721 from their Customer Service department by calling 800-832-0034 x8197. The cost will be about $160. This will include the hardcover text as well as WebAssign access (which includes the e-book). I would only recommend this option if you feel very strongly about having a hardcover text, as it's more expensive than other options.

(3) Purchase or rent the book from some other online source, but in this case, you must also purchase the WebAssign access for $70. So, again, I would only recommend this option if you really can't live without a hardcover book. (One student reported that he rented the hardcover text for a total of $31.62, including shipping, for the entire semester from chegg.com.)

To Access WebAssign (for the online weekly class quizzes AND for the e-book).

If you've never been on WebAssign, follow these steps.

1. Go to webassign.net.

2. Click on the "I have a class key" button.

3. The class key is:

utah 5424 8496

4. Create an account. WARNING: You MUST use your uID and password that you currently use for login into Campus Information System when creating your WebAssign account!!!! (If you don't follow this crucial step exactly, you will create quite a headache for yourself and me, so please be careful to use your exact uID and password that you use for CIS login.)

If you already have a WebAssign account THAT IS THE SAME LOGIN AS YOUR CIS USERNAME, follow these steps.

1. Go to <https://www.webassign.net/utah/login.html?WebAssignUsername=&WebAssignInstitution=utah>.

2. Log in with your uID and password (same as what you use for CIS login).

Then you can use steps 2 and 3 from above.

Please note that if you are retaking this Math1080 class and you had purchased WebAssign access with the e-book previously, you do NOT have to re-purchase WebAssign. It will allow you access to WebAssign and the e-book again with no extra charge.
